Clients can make use our Registered Office & Mail Redirection Service to comply with the law requirement, and to take care their business postal delivery and collection. Company or business name strip will be displayed in our address for identification and postal purposes. Unless there are a great number of mails or courier services to be handled under client's instruction, no postage will be charged for our services. For our clients of Hong Kong company, our service will also save the company annual custody charges on statutory records keeping in our address on the client behalf.

For our clients of non-Hong Kong company or personal business, we are delighted to provide similar services as their accommodation addresses to handle their postal requirements and to avoid the troublesome to set up separate office with the attendance of permanent staff member.
